

the ilm level 7 award in strategic leadership

inspiring organisations and individuals to change, grow and succeed

About us

Established in 1996, t2 business solutions has grown to become one of the largest providers of executive development in the UK - employing over 100 staff and supporting nearly 2,500 people in over 500 organisations.

Our aim is to help organisations and individuals close the gap between their performance and potential through our portfolio of training, coaching and business solutions. Our Directors are constantly spanning the globe for innovative ideas and best practice to incorporate into our solutions.

All our trainers, coaches and consultants are full-time employees, who are constantly evaluating and improving our services through feedback from our clients. One of our main differentiators over other organisations is that our entire workforce are from the SME sector and recognise that SMEs face significantly different challenges to the corporate and public sector. This has been one of the keys to our success.

ILM Level 7 Award in Strategic Leadership

The ILM Level 7 Award in Strategic Leadership is one of the highest-level qualifications available to Managers today.

The qualification is an accelerated learning experience of best practice and latest thinking from around the World. It has been designed for business leaders of fast-growth SMEs that need the benefit of entrepreneurial leadership, operational excellence, strategic competence and engagement of the entire workforce.

Who is it for?

The ILM Level 7 Award in Strategic Leadership is for small to medium sized business leaders who seek real-world knowledge about how to drive growth, profit and sustainability in their business, by taking the world's best practice and applying it directly to their business.

What makes the programme different?

This qualification is designed specifically for the SME sector. The aim of the programme is to arm you with the strategic leadership capability required to grow your organisation. The programme focuses on your business and is carefully designed to challenge your thinking, leading you toward strategic and operational excellence.

Assignment

This is a concise qualification - the assignment will cover a review of different leadership theories relevant to your organisation and an investigation of organisational leadership performance by analysing a critical incident. The assignment will also cover your reflection on the programme and your learning experiences to improve your performance.

Duration

5 days spread over 3 months followed by a Business Coaching session with one of our Senior Business Coaches.
