

t2 masters in leadership

how to lead so people will want to follow

About us

Established in 1996, t2 business solutions has grown to become one of the largest providers of executive development in the UK. We currently work with thousands of organisations across the UK, training and coaching hundreds of people each year.

Our aim is to help organisations and individuals close the gap between their performance and potential through our portfolio of training, coaching and business solutions. Our Directors are constantly spanning the globe for innovative ideas and best practice to incorporate into our solutions.

All our trainers, coaches and consultants are full-time employees, who are constantly evaluating and improving our services through feedback from our clients.

The t2 Masters in Leadership

This programme is a unique blend of best practice and latest thinking from around the world to enable you to develop your leadership potential.

Delivered by one of our Master Trainers and Senior Executive Coaches, the programme taps your unconscious mind where all learning takes place and uses a range of powerful approaches to help you find your own unique pathway to sustained high performance leadership.

It will help you become an inspirational Leader who others will want to follow, leading to exceptional team performance.

By the end of the programme, you will have the confidence to venture into unknown territories, inspire colleagues and make difficult decisions.

Programme Cost

t2's Masters in Leadership costs £2,495.

What is the programme about?

This programme takes you on an experiential journey to discover your true potential to become a high performing successful leader. The key to achieving this is to identify your core purpose and vision, overcome your inner obstacles to outer performance and to develop the presence to motivate others.

What does the programme cover?

- The psychology of leadership, growth and change
- Illustrations of high leadership performance from business, military and sport
- The responsibilities of being a successful leader
- Learning from success and failure
- Exploring your own leadership story
- Constructing personal practice for leadership performance

Who is the programme for?

- Rising stars, destined for the top
- Those looking for leadership development to support promotion
- Recently promoted executives facing leadership challenges for the first time
- Senior Managers and Directors wanting to review their current approaches to leadership and develop new capabilities
